As more of us live longer, healthier lives, New Hampshire faces a powerful opportunity to rethink the future of our communities. So many of us continue to have so much to offer as we age, but many of our current policies, structures, and cultural assumptions fail to take advantage of the new realities of an older Granite State.

Thanks to dramatic advances in medicine, public health and lifestyle choices, nearly half of children born today can expect to live to 100. Demographic trends show us that by 2030, nearly half a million people in New Hampshire will be over the age of 65.

This permanent shift toward longer lives affects where we live and how we work, obtain healthcare, and navigate our day-to-day lives. Current approaches are insufficient. We must roll up our sleeves and imagine new ways to think and act and new ways to shape the places in which we live.

The New Hampshire Alliance for Healthy Aging (NHAHA) has been working since 2014 to prepare communities to create an even better, even older New Hampshire. Pulling together service organizations, state agencies, policy makers, advocates and older people themselves, NHAHA is creating a movement for a more age-friendly New Hampshire. NHAHA is raising awareness about how we can support Granite Staters as we age, encouraging collective action on several key priorities.

Educating the community and advocating for policy change are critical to creating age-friendly communities that involve and support all of us as we get older. The long-term advocacy priorities contained in this document were established through a 10-month input process. NHAHA participants of all ages were invited to contribute.

NHAHA firmly believes that focusing on these priorities will ensure that all of us can look forward to aging in the Granite State in a way that utilizes our skills and talents, meets our needs, and manages our resources effectively.
We are engaging in a collective impact approach to:

1. Change the conversation about how we age across all sectors of the community
2. Change public policy to promote a strong, stable, and state-of-the-art infrastructure for aging and
3. Change practice across public and private sectors to transform care and develop innovative ways to support older adults, our families and our communities.
Our shared vision includes six domains of an age-friendly New Hampshire:

- Fundamental needs are met
  - Food
  - Safety
  - Info about Services
  - Shelter/Warmth
  - Transportation

- A broad range of living arrangements are available

Strategies:
• Advocate for stronger infrastructure within the Department of Health and Human Services to marshal the resources needed to support all of us as we age in New Hampshire.

Goal 6

Establish the New Hampshire Alliance for Healthy Aging as a trusted and knowledgeable resource for legislators, policy makers and the media on policy issues related to aging in New Hampshire.

Goal 7

Build upon the New Hampshire Alliance for Healthy Aging’s role as a watchdog on key legislation and policy affecting older people in New Hampshire and marshal people and resources to react to upcoming issues.

Strategies:

- Ensure that a strong system exists to notify and activate advocates.
- Determine a process to assess the relevancy of key federal and regional policy decisions on New Hampshire’s older people and create methods for response.
